It is no secret that interior design is amidst the most central aspects of a hotel's appeal. Hotel developers and owners always look enough beyond the aesthetic aspect of interior design, trying not miss the facet that is just the most important: functionality. Smart, innovative interior design not only pleases the eye and makes for a great guest experience, it also improves your hotel operations efficiency, driving up the profitability in your bottom line. In exemplary hotels, plenty of innovative design solutions can be found not only in the front of house but also in the back of house. You will encounter smart design in physical spaces and objects such as furniture, but also in staff's equipment and in intangibles such as light fixtures. Not only do all these details have constructive effects on visitors, but they also motivate the staff and even managers. Decoran group brings all these up-to-dated standards of designing, details and functionality together in order to ultimate your hotel efficiency, comfort and calmness. We present all needed in a project in four major steps: consulting, designing, producing and constructions. Therefore, customers do not need to worry about anything but to decide what kind of style they prefer for their decoration.
